Short Profile:

Dhaval A. Bhoi (B.E. CE-'03 - M.E. CE '10) has received his B.E. CE and M.E. CE Degrees in 2003 and 2010 from Department of Computer Engineering, DDIT, Dharmsinh Desai University-Nadiad. He is a member of Computer Society of India (CSI). His area of interest includes Algorithms Analysis, Data Mining and Theory of Computation. He has 14.9 years of teaching experience at UG level and concurrently 5+ years of teaching and research experience at PG level, having good teaching and research interests. In addition he has been involved in various workshop organized on data mining sponsored by AICTE, GUJCOST.

He joined CITC (now CSPIT) as a teaching assistant in 2003. His general research includes Data Warehousing, Data Mining and Business Intelligence and Algorithms. In these areas, he is having published and contributed 09 research papers (as an Author and a Co-author) published in refereed journals and presented in various national & international conferences. He has guided more than 40 industry projects at graduate level.

He is concurrently holding Assistant Professor, at U. & P. U. Patel Department of Computer Engineering, CSPIT, CHARUSAT. He is a member of Resource Management (Time Table Committee), Anti Ragging Committee, Equal Opportunity Cell, Professional Body Membership, Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) for CE Department, CHARUSAT.